Coal Sector

Improved Price Outlook Amid Tighter 1H24 Market S-D and Rising Costs; Upgrade Sector to OW

- Stable coal prices in 1H24 have been supported by improved S-D, amid firm China, India demand and surprisingly weak Indonesia's production.
- Rising production cost for Indonesian producers shall add support for LT prices amid firm demand; we raise our FY24-25 coal price and EPS f'casts
- We upgraded the sector's rating to OW on the improved price outlook.
   Our preferred picks are ADRO and ITMG.

Resilient prices during the low season aided by better-than-expected S-D Newcastle, ICI3 and ICI4 coal prices have averaged at US$130/$76/$56/t in the low-season YTD, 2-8% above our FY24 average price forecasts. We believe that resilient prices have been supported by a better S-D condition, amid firm demand and surprisingly tighter supply from Indonesia. With inventory levels in China and India suggesting possible bottoming out of seasonal demand in Jun24, we see potential for a stronger price rebound in 4Q24 Winter season, and hence, upside in our FY24-25F price forecasts.

Strong China and India imports, tighter supplies from Indonesia and Aust. On the demand front, China's and India's import grew at a strong rate of 12% and 11% yoy, respectively, in 5M24 (vs. FY23's 58% and 4%, and our forecast of 10% and 5% respectively). Meanwhile, supply from the main exporters, namely Indonesia and Australia, grew at slower-than-expected rate of 4% yoy and -7% yoy. Overall, the S-D in 1H24 have thus far indicated a market deficit, contrary to our earlier expectation of a slight surplus.

Indonesia: 2Q24 production may have been affected by higher rainfall

Official data from MEMR showed that Indonesia's coal production grew by only 3% yoy, with a noticeable production slowdown in May-Jun24 (-9% yoy). The soft 1H24 national production growth contrasts with the strong production growth reported by the listed coal contractors (Pama: 5M24 +16% yoy), which implies that the softer production growth in 2Q24 may likely be driven by shortfall from the smaller miners, possibly due to the unexpected increased rainfalls in certain mining regions in Jun24.

Raising our FY24-25F and LT price est. as rising cost add further support

On top of the tighter S-D condition, we believe the resilient coal price shall also be attributed to the escalation in the major miners' costs, as we noted that miners under our coverage have experienced a US$11-20/t (14-15%) rise in their cash cost over the past 5 years. On the back of these factors, we lifted our FY24-25 coal price assumptions by 8-20% and LT price to US$100/t (vs. $90/t prev.) and accordingly raise our FY24-25F earnings forecast and TPs for the coal miners by 8.7-32.3%.

Upgrade sector rating to OW, top picks are ADRO, ITMG.

Amid the more favorable coal price outlook, we upgraded the sector rating to Overweight (from our tactical-driven Neutral rating prev.). Our top picks in the sector are ADRO (Buy, TP Rp3,770) and ITMG (Buy, TP Rp31,300), which we believe will benefit more from the rising export prices. Key risks are strong recovery in Indonesia's supply and weakening China demand.

GIIAS 2024 Visit KTA: Intensifying competition amid Chinese Producers Product Launches

- Our visit to GIIAS 2024 revealed aggressive Chinese 4W product launches with many choices in multiple price range.
- We observed decent traffic at the Toyota booth, with Innova Zenix and Hilux Rangga attracting the most interest.
- BYD's new M6 MPV garnered attention, though we think it is still not comparable to Innova. Retain Buy rating and TP of Rp 5,100 on ASII.

GIIAS 2024: Chinese 4W products attracted significant interests

At GIIAS 2024 Auto Show, we observed notable releases such as BYD (M6 MPV), Hyundai (Kona EV), and Honda e-N1. Overall, we noted decent crowd interest in Toyota's Innova Zenix and Hilux Rangga at the Toyota booth. Toyota also introduced a concept of its new EV car, FT-3e, though it did not indicate possible launch date. We noted more presence from the Chinese players (BYD, MG, Cherry, and the new entrant, Aion (GAC group)), which garnered decent attention. Price discounts are relatively decent at around ~Rp20mn for 2024 models across brands. Thus, we expect that several Chinese 4W players may gain further market share in the coming months.

BYD M6: may not be Innova's direct competitor

BYD M6 is the most anticipated 4W EV for GIIAS 2024, with ~100 bookings in three days of GIIAS event. While it shares similar dimensions and is positioned in the same 7-seaters MPV class as Toyota's Innova, we do not think it directly competes with Innova despite its relatively attractive price (Rp 380m-Rp 420m, similar to Toyota's Yaris Cross but below that of Innova), as we believe it does not provide the comfort that Innova offers. Several early reviews stated that BYD M6 offers attractive value at its price, but not superior in any specific area, with relatively hard suspension that could be felt during speed bumps at low speed.

Reiterate Buy rating with TP Rp 5,100; competition may remain intensified

Overall, we see rising competition for ASII's 4W to persist, especially from Chinese players. This could limit ASP increases on ASII in the future, hence limiting potential margin upside. We believe the hybrid segment, which currently amounted to 6% of total 4W industry sales in 1H24 (13% of ASII total sales), will remain an attractive niche for ASII, given less competition thus far. We expect better sales for ASII in 2H24, despite a possible slight downside due to absence of Avanza/Veloz Hybrid in GIIAS 2024. We reiterate our Buy rating on ASII with a TP of Rp 5,100. ASII is currently trades at P/E of 5.6x, -1.5 std dev of its 8 years mean. Downside risks to our view include: 1) Further aggressive entries from Chinese players; 2) Weaker purchasing power.

BSDE Recorded Marketing Sales of Rp4.84tr in 1H24 (51% of the company's FY24F target)

- BSDE booked marketing sales of Rp2.61tr in 2Q24 (+18%qoq; -1%yoy), bringing its 1H24 achievement to Rp4.84tr (+1%yoy), in line with the company's FY24F target of Rp9.5tr.
- The overall 1H24 achievement has been aided primarily by new launches of landed residential products in BSD City, shophouses in Kota Wisata Cibubur and Grand City Balikpapan, and JV land sales to PT Sinar Mitbana Mas at Rp565bn. Overall segment contributions are as follows: Residential 54%, Shophouses 20%, JV Land sales 12%, Commercial lots 7% and Apartment 7%. VAT-exempted marketing sales are yet to be disclosed.
- We currently have a Buy rating for BSDE with a last TP of Rp1,300 based on our 61% disc.to.RNAV as we believe future growth should be pillared by its strong Greater Jakarta township franchise, making it a proxy of upper-middle class residential demand. (Ismail Fakhri Suweleh BRIDS)

Poultry – 3rd week of July 2024 Price Update

- The average live bird price in the second week of the Suro month slightly decreased to Rp19.4k/kg from the previous week (Rp20.1k/kg) and before Suro month (Rp19.6k/kg), although still far better than historical (based on the table).
- DOC price declined to Rp7.95k/chick in the third week of July 2024 from the previous week at Rp8.3k/chick (-4.2%)
- Local corn prices have remained stable at Rp4.4k/kg since the end of June 2024.
- After reaching its peak at US$380/t in the previous week, soybean meal (SBM) prices have seen a significant decrease, now hovering around c. US$333-340/t in the third week of July. This decline is due to the USDA releasing a report on the world market and trade, which includes estimates indicating easier global SBM availability in 2023/24 due to several factors, including a rebound in Argentina soybean production, increased Brazil soybean meal exports, and rising U.S. crush, leading to higher global exportable supplies.
- We maintain a positive outlook for the sector with 2Q24 earnings and better-than-expected LB prices as the ST catalysts. (Victor Stefano & Wilastita Muthia Sofi – BRIDS)
