Trimegah Bangun Persada (NCKL IJ) Additional 10% stake in ONC lifts FY25 earnings

- NCKL bought a 10% stake for Rp2.1tr, growing its income from JV to Rp3.2tr/ Rp3.3tr in FY25/ 26F.
- We raised our FY25/26F forecast by +9.7%/+9.1% on the back of a stronger income from JV and a growing ore contribution.
- Reiterate our Buy rating with a higher TP of Rp1,500. Key risks to our call include lower nickel prices and a lower utilization rate.

Earnings boost from ONC stake purchase

On the 13th of Dec24, NCKL disclosed an additional 10% stake purchase in ONC from Li Yuen for Rp2.1tr. This marks NCKL's second purchase, having initially purchased a 10% stake in FY21 for Rp628bn. The source of funding for the acquisition was gained through the repurposing of IPO proceeds amounting to Rp1.6tr. Thus, at 20% ownership, NCKL will recognize ONC's profit as profits from associates. Furthermore, combined with its ownership in HPL, NCKL effectively owns 37,800 tons of HPAL refining capacity.

FY25-26F forecast upgrades post ONC acquisition

We revised our FY25/26F share in profit of associates to Rp3.2tr/Rp3.3tr (from Rp2.2tr/Rp2.2tr), effectively raising our net profit estimate to Rp8.7tr/9.6tr (from: Rp7.9tr/Rp9.6tr). The increase of c.Rp1tr in profit of associates is attributable to the inclusion of ONC's earnings after the additional 10% stake purchase, where we estimate ONC to record a FY25-26 NP of Rp4.7tr, assuming a 100% utilization rate and MHP ASP of US$12.3k/ton (vs. MHP avg. price of US$12.8k/ton in Jan'25).

Risks on RKAB limitation

Recently, the Director General of mineral and coal issued a statement regarding a possible cut of nickel ore quota should companies miss the guidelines given by the government regarding post-mining reclamation and environmental management. Currently, over 200mn tonnes of quota have been approved, though the ministry is looking to limit the quota to prevent an oversupply of ore. Based on the news, we believe that a reduction in release quota is unlikely to occur as the outcome would be catastrophic to the industry that is consuming more ore than ever along with growing HPAL smelters and rising demand for limonite ore. Should a reduction of quota be exercised, we believe MBMA and NCKL will be the most affected companies as it still purchases c.55% and c.30% of its ore through a 3rd party, which are prone to premium pricing.

Reiterate our Buy rating with an upgraded TP of Rp1,500

We reiterate our Buy rating in view of strong earnings growth of 31% yoy, derived from increased capacity from ONC and KPS, paired with its solid cash cost and increasing ore sales. Thus, we upgraded our TP to Rp1,500 based on our SOTP valuation method and DCF on each project. Our TP implies an FY25F PE of 11x vs. the current 5.4x FY25 PE. Key risks to our call include lower nickel prices, a lower utilization rate, and project execution delays.

Summarecon Agung (SMRA IJ) FY24 Marketing Sales: In-Line with Our Expectations, Missed Company Target

- SMRA booked marketing sales of Rp4.36tr in FY24 (-3%yoy), aligned with our expectation of Rp4.33tr, yet missed co's target of Rp5.0tr.
- Overall, Bekasi and Serpong remain the driver of FY24 pre-sales, yet Bandung, Bogor, and Tangerang were the laggards.
- We maintain Buy rating on SMRA due to its ability to cater middle-class end-users demand in Greater Jakarta, with strong recurring revenues.
- Overall Results: SMRA booked marketing sales of Rp1.7tr in 4Q24 (+82%qoq, +18%yoy), bringing its cummulative FY24 achievement to Rp4.36tr (-3%yoy), relatively in-line with our estimates of Rp4.33tr (101%), yet below company's target of Rp5.0tr (87%).
- A strong qoq achievement was expected due to the backloading of several key launchings, which includes the newly introduced Tangerang project. Tangerang project, however, booked only Rp187bn marketing sales in Dec24, implying a relatively modest achievement at 33% to co's target at Rp570bn.
- Excluding Tangerang, 4Q24 achievement still grew 5%qoq, 62%yoy, primarily contributed by the launching of Quantum Shophouses in Serpong which booked around Rp250bn (13% contribution to total 4Q24), and Centeria Square Shophouses and Maple Park Landed Residential in Bogor, which together booked around Rp155bn (9% contribution to total 4Q24).
- Product, Pricing, Location, and Payer Mixes: Product mixes remain dominated by landed houses (75%) and shophouses (15%). Average selling price of cumulative FY24 is at Rp2.4bn, with mortgage payer mixes at 53%, followed by cash installment 27%, and full-cash 20%.
- Summary: Overall FY24 marketing sales performance has been beating target in several key projects (Bekasi, Serpong), however the misses in the other big projects (Bandung, Bogor, and particularly Tangerang) have resulted in the company not meeting its FY24 target. We have previously assessed this risk, thus, had lowered our marketing sales estimates in our prev note. We believe the market also already anticipates and priced-in the FY24 marketing sales results.
- The company has yet to finalize its FY25F marketing sales target, yet we expect it to book Rp4.54tr (+4.9%yoy vs. FY16-24 CAGR at 4.2%).
- We maintain our Buy rating on SMRA with our 79% disc.to RNAV-based TP of Rp800. We like SMRA's pricing mix of Rp1-5bn, which caters to entry-level end-user demand for landed houses in Greater Jakarta. The company also boasts a strong recurring revenue franchise, contributing approximately 42% to FY25F revenue. Moreover, SMRA emerges as a value option in the sector, with its current 87% discount to RNAV. Risks: Weaker overall demand in Greater Jakarta.

Healthcare (Overweight) Sector Update: Key Takeaways from Meeting with the Indonesian Society of Respirologists (Perhimpunan Dokter Paru Indonesia - PDPI)

Our discussion with PDPI on HMPV highlighted several key insights regarding the virus:

- Virus Characteristics: HMPV is a droplet-transmitted virus that mutates year-round but shows seasonal trends, primarily during winter or early spring. The recent mutation in December 2024, especially in China, was welldocumented due to their advanced surveillance systems.
- Mortality and Treatment: HMPV has a very low mortality rate, with treatments similar to those for influenza. No specific antiviral has been developed yet.
- Local Observations: According to our speaker, dr. Fathiyah, Sp.P, a Pulmonologist at RS Persahabatan, Jakarta Timur, no HMPV cases have been observed among her patients.
- Hospital Findings: Our checks with listed hospitals confirmed no notable increase in HMPV cases. This could be attributed to limited diagnostic activity (tests cost up to Rp3.5mn), but the standard outpatient treatments seem effective in managing the illness. Thus far, HMPV appears controlled in Indonesia with no signs of widespread transmission.
- Precautions: Despite the low prevalence, PDPI emphasized maintaining a healthy lifestyle and caution, especially for vulnerable groups like infants, children, and individuals with respiratory conditions (e.g., pneumonia).
- Other Viruses: Similar trends were observed with Influenza A in December 2024. While cases were reported in hospitals offering complex diagnostics, the virus exhibited low mortality and was manageable with outpatient care.
- TBC Eradication Programs: Indonesia's tuberculosis (TB) eradication program remains focused on vulnerable groups, directing them to receive treatment at their nearest healthcare facilities (Faskes).
- We maintain our Overweight (OW) rating on the healthcare sector, as we anticipate robust profitability growth over the next five years, with a projected EBITDA CAGR of 19% for FY24F-FY29F. The sector's average valuation stands at 13.5x FY25F EV/EBITDA (-24% disc. to EM peers).
- Companies under our coverage continue to demonstrate strong capabilities in expanding patient volumes, enhancing revenue intensity, and improving operational efficiency, which collectively support future margin expansion. Top Picks: HEAL → MIKA → SILO. (Ismail Fakhri Suweleh & Wilastita Muthia Sofi − BRIDS)
